D-Subminiature RJ-45 Modular Adapters

- Designed for system to device and device to device wiring applications.
- Used on modems, multiplexers, terminals, printers, and data PBX's.
- Preconfigured or kit available
- Shielded adapters allow for EMI/RFI protection within the modular adapter
- Patented design ensures shield continuity when mated
- Available in 9-position and 25 position preconfigured units and in complete kits that include all the components required to assemble custom modular adapters on site.

Baluns

- Avoid the expense of running costly and inflexible coaxial, dual coax or twin-ax cabling.
- Available for 3270 TYPE A, Systems 3X/AS400, and ARCNET operating environments.

Adapters

- Extend any line cord with an RJ connector or adapt RJ plugs with different pin counts.
- Shielded or unshielded in-line adapter is a double ended female to female coupler that accepts 4, 6, 8, or 10 position modular RJ connectors
- Allows continuous shielding when connecting (2) ScTP cables
